The Collect BCP 256

O ALMIGHTY God, who hast knit together thine elect in one communion and fellowship, in the mystical body of thy Son Christ our Lord; Grant us grace so to follow thy blessed Saints in all virtuous and godly living, that we may come to those unspeakable joys which thou hast prepared for those who unfeignedly love thee; through the same thy Son Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

For The Epistle Revelation 7:2-4, 9-1 BCP 256

AND I saw another angel ascending from the east, having the seal of the living God: and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea, saying, Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads. And I heard the number of them which were sealed: and there were sealed an hundred and forty and four thousand of all the tribes of the children of Israel. After this I beheld, and, lo, a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and peoples, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lamb, clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands; and cried with a loud voice, saying, Salvation to our God which sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb. And all the angels stood round about the throne, and about the elders and the four living creatures, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God, saying, Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen. And one of the elders answered, saying unto me, What are these which are arrayed in white robes? and whence came they? And I said unto him, Sir, thou knowest. And he said to me, These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

Therefore are they before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple: and he that sitteth on the throne shall dwell among them. They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more; neither shall the sun light on them, nor any heat. For the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall feed them, and shall lead them unto living fountains of waters: and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes.

Hymn #243 I Sing a Song of the Saints GRAND ISLE

The Holy Gospel St. Matthew 5:1-11 BCP 257

JESUS seeing the multitudes, went up into a mountain: and when he was set, his disciples came unto him: and he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying, Blessed are the poor in spirit: for their's is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted. Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth. Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled. Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy. Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God. Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God. Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for their's is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake. Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.

Homily The Rt. Rev'd Paul Lambert

CONFIRMATION

¶ Upon the day appointed, all that are to be confirmed shall stand in order before the Bishop, sitting in his chair near to the Holy Table, the People all standing until the Lord's Prayer; and the Rector shall say,

Reverend Father in God, I present unto you these persons to receive the Laying on of Hands.

Bishop Hear the words of the Evangelist Saint Luke, in the eighth Chapter of the Acts of the Apostles.

WHEN the apostles which were at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent unto them Peter and John: who, when they were come down, prayed for them, that they might receive the Holy Ghost: for as yet he was fallen upon none of them: only they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus. Then laid they their hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost.

¶ Then shall the Bishop say,

DO ye here, in the presence of God, and of this congregation, renew the solemn promise and vow that ye made, or that was made in your name, at your Baptism; ratifying and confirming the same; and acknowledging yourselves bound to believe and to do all those things which ye then undertook, or your Sponsors then undertook for you?

¶ And every one shall audibly answer,

I do.

¶ Then shall the Bishop say,

Do ye promise to follow Jesus Christ as your Lord and Saviour?

¶ And every one shall answer,

I do.

Bishop Our help is in the Name of the Lord*;*
Answer Who hath made heaven and earth.
Bishop Blessed be the Name of the Lord;
Answer Henceforth, world without end.
Bishop Lord, hear our prayer.
Answer And let our cry come unto thee.

Bishop Let us pray.

ALMIGHTY and everliving God, who hast vouchsafed to regenerate these thy servants by Water and the Holy Ghost, and hast given unto them forgiveness of all their sins; Strengthen them, we beseech thee, O Lord, with the Holy Ghost, the Comforter, and daily increase in them thy manifold gifts of grace: the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and ghostly strength, the spirit of knowledge and true godliness; and fill them, O Lord, with the spirit of thy holy fear, now and for ever. Amen.

¶ Then all of them in order kneeling before the Bishop, he shall lay his hand upon the head of every one severally, saying,

DEFEND, O Lord, this thy Child with thy heavenly grace; that she may continue thine for ever; and daily increase in thy Holy Spirit more and more, until she come unto thy everlasting kingdom. Amen.

¶ Anointing each with Chrism upon the head, the Bishop shall say,

I SIGN thee with the sign of the Cross, and I confirm thee with the Chrism of Salvation: in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

¶ Then shall the Bishop say,

Bishop The Lord be with you
Answer And with thy spirit.
Bishop Let us pray.

ALMIGHTY and everliving God, who makest us both to will and to do those things which are good, and acceptable unto thy Divine Majesty; We make our humble suppli-cations unto thee for these thy servants, upon whom, after the example of thy holy Apostles, we have now laid our hands, to certify them, by this sign, of thy favour and gracious goodness towards them. Let thy fatherly hand, we beseech thee, ever be over them; let thy Holy Spirit ever be with them; and so lead them in the knowledge and obedience of thy Word, that in the end they may obtain everlasting life; through our Lord Jesus Christ, who with thee and the same Holy Spirit liveth and reigneth ever, one God, world without end. Amen.

OALMIGHTY Lord, and everlasting God, vouchsafe, we beseech thee, to direct, sanctify, and govern, both our hearts and bodies, in the ways of thy laws, and in the works of thy commandments; that, through thy most mighty protection, both here and ever, we may be preserved in body and soul; through our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Amen.

¶ Then the Bishop shall bless them, saying thus,

The Blessing of God Almighty, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost, be upon you, and remain with you for ever. Amen.

Communion Never Weather-Beaten Sail

CHARLES WOOD (1866-1926)

Never weather-beaten sail more willing bent to shore, never tired pilgrim limbs affected slumber more,
Than my weary spirit now longs to fly out of my troubled breast:
O come quickly, sweetest Lord, and take my soul to rest!

Ever blooming are the joys of heav'n's high Paradise,

Old age deafs not there our ears nor vapour dims our eyes:
Glory there the sun outshines; whose beams the Blessèd only see:
O come quickly, come quickly, glorious Lord, and raise my soul to Thee!

GOING DEEPER

Questions for Personal Reflection & Prayer

Knit Together Collect

"O Almighty God, who hast knit together thine elect in one communion and fellowship, in the mystical body of thy Son Christ our Lord." Knit means woven, not just stacked or assembled. St. John Henry Newman said that the Holy Ghost, "being One, knit them all together into one," so that Christians are "not mere stones of a building, piled one on another," but "living stones." Many of us live the Christian life more like a heap than a fabric: we arrive at church; we're cordial; we go home. Yet the Collect asks grace "so to follow thy blessed Saints in all virtuous and godly living," and following is not the same as admiring. Whose holiness have you admired without following? The Prayer Book (p. 256) bids us to pray today's Collect daily through the coming week. Try praying it each day this week, and ask God to knit you more closely to one particular saint, or perhaps to a fellow Christian in our community whom you have kept at arm's length.

Sealed in the Forehead Epistle

In Revelation, the angel cries, "Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads." Those of us who were baptized in the Anglican tradition were then signed with the Cross on our foreheads "in token that hereafter" we "shall not be ashamed to confess the faith of Christ crucified"—and the Confirmands today will be thus signed and sealed again on their foreheads. The seal is invisible, yet the world can read it clearly enough: in how Christians spend money, what we laugh at, what we will not do or say for a promotion at work or to please a crowd. Yet many of us are quite comfortable being Christians in church and discreet about it everywhere else, letting good manners substitute for humility. Where are you most tempted to keep covered the Cross with which you were sealed: at work, among peers, with grown children, online? Try tracing the sign of the Cross on your forehead each morning this week as you rise, and ask God to make you unashamed of the One who died for you, and whose Name you bear.

Washed White Epistle

"These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb." The saints are not robed in white because they were impressive, but because they were washed in the Lamb's blood. Of course that doesn't stop us from trying to polish our own robes instead—résumés, reputations, the family's good name. John Henry Newman warned that we can treat the faithful departed like a church's graveyard "which it is decent to respect, unsuitable to linger in," as though "we were in light and they in darkness." Yet he insisted that St. Paul, martyred long ago, and indeed all saints, are "more truly alive than those who are called living." Whom, in the faith of Christ, have you loved and apparently lost? The faithful in Christ stand more fully in the place where "God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes." Name one of them before God with thanksgiving. Then come to Christ's altar, where we worship "with Angels and Archangels, and with all the company of heaven," asking to be made clean in the Lamb's blood.

Poor by Choice Gospel

"Blessed are the poor in spirit: for their's is the kingdom of heaven." St. John Chrysostom said the poor in spirit are "the humble and contrite in mind," those who humble themselves by choice, not merely those humbled by circumstances. Christ begins here, Chrysostom said, because pride is "the root and fountain of all wickedness," and humility "the mother of virtues." "Though fasting, prayer, almsgiving, temperance, any other good thing whatever, be gathered together in you; without humility all fall away and perish." That is a sobering word for capable people. Pride rarely announces itself; it disguises itself as conscientiousness, good taste, or even as religious seriousness. Where do you quietly keep score of your own competence, your children's success, or your faithfulness? Before you open your calendar each morning, try praying St. Paul's question: "What hast thou that thou didst not receive?" Then ask God for the poverty of spirit that the saints freely chose.

Comfort Like Snow Gospel

"Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted." Chrysostom said Christ means chiefly those who mourn for their sins, and not only their own, but "for other men's misdoings," just as Moses, David, and St. Paul did. Our culture permits grief for loss, but finds grief for sin weird and even unhealthy. Many of us manage regret instead of repenting, or we keep a tidy distance from the sins of our family, our town, and our nation. Yet the promised blessedness belongs only to those who mourn—as Chrysostom said: "When God does comfort, though sorrows come upon you by thousands like snow-flakes, you will be above them all." Is there a sin, your own or one you share with others, that you have explained but never mourned over? Kneel this week with the General Confession (BCP p. 75), and let the phrase "the remembrance of them is grievous unto us" be true for you. Then read the "Absolution" (p. 76) (changing "you" to "me") and receive it as God's gift of comfort just for you.

These reflection questions were produced with assistance from artificial intelligence, and with insights from: The Communion of Saints by St. John Henry Newman; and Homily XV on the Gospel of St. Matthew by St. John Chrysostom.

WELCOME TO ALL SAINTS'

We are delighted that you are with us today.

Whether you are visiting for the first time or worshiping with us regularly, we extend to you a warm and heartfelt welcome. If you have any questions or need assistance during your time with us, please do not hesitate to speak with one of our ushers, or with the priest after the service.

Restrooms are located through the door to the left of the pulpit. They may also be accessed by exiting through the church's front doors and entering through the garden-side entrance.

For Families with Children

Children are a valued part of our worshipping community and welcome in the church alongside their parents as they see, hear, and absorb the rhythms and teachings of the liturgy. Age-appropriate bulletins and Quiet Bags are available in the Narthex.

Nursery care and Children's Church are offered in the Parish Hall from 9:00-10:15 a.m. and 10:30-11:45 a.m., with activities, games, and crafts related to the day's lesson. Children may attend one or both sessions, join their parents in worship at 10:30 a.m., or remain in Children's Church throughout the morning. Parents should pick up children from the Parish Hall following the service.

Fellowship Following the Service

Please join us on the bricks after worship for lemonade, cookies, conversation, and a children's art activity. We cherish these opportunities for fellowship and would be pleased to become better acquainted with you.

Stay Connected

To receive parish news, upcoming event information, and messages from the Rector, we invite you to subscribe to our weekly newsletter. Simply scan the QR code with your mobile device to stay informed about the life and ministry of All Saints'.

We are grateful that you have chosen to worship with us today and pray that you find a sense of belonging, peace, and hospitality within the All Saints' family.
